OECD Young Professionals Programme

The YPP brings talented entry-level professionals from diverse backgrounds into the OECD. Our YPs are at the centre of an international network, involved in some of the most innovative, high-profile research and policy discussions taking place.

YPs are recruited once every two years for two-year assignments.

Selection cycle:

3 October –
24 November
2016:
Application period

December 2016:
Written test

February-March 2017:
Panel
interviews

Summer 2017:
YPs join the OECD in Paris.

“I was a Young Professional myself and I can say the YP Programme is the best way to join our Organisation. The YPP is mind opening and mind changing. It can be challenging but this is definitely the place where you want to be to build your professional career.”

- Stefano Scarpetta, Director of the Employment, Labour and Social Affairs,
YPP 1991

“As a Young Professional you have the opportunity to shape better policies that will transform people’s lives. I truly was part of high-level policy dialogue from day one, working next to world class experts.”

- Iota, Economist, YPP 2013
